From the Navigator.

This morning Queen Elizabeth is at anchor in the bay of Sarande, Albania. Throughout the night we set North Easterly courses passing west of the Greek islands of Zakynthos and Kefallinia. In the early hours of this morning Queen Elizabeth entered the waters between the island of Corfu and mainland Greece known as the Kerkiraiki Thalassa, where we set various northerly courses proceeding through the northern Kerkira Channel, the narrow stretch of water between the Northern tip of the island Corfu, and the coast of Albania. At its narrowest point, the Channel is just over a mile wide. Once through this channel we embarked our local pilot and made our final approaches to the anchorage of Sarande.

At Anchor in Saranda, Albania.

Saranda, Albania.

Arrival Time: 9.00am

Last tender from ashore: 4.30pm

Historical Saranda sits quietly in the curve of a natural bay overlooking Corfu and the boats that speckle the shimmering Ionian Sea. As well as its beautiful beaches and eateries bursting with fresh sea catches, Saranda's varied – and often unquiet – history has bestowed the town with a rich cultural heritage. And, just an ancient stone's throw away, the fascinating UNESCO World Heritage site of Butrint is Albania's finest coastal treasure. The coastal town of Saranda (or Sarandë) lies on the Albanian Riviera – a section of the country's coastline fringing the azure waters of the Ionian Sea – and is sheltered from winds under the protective embrace of a mountainous backdrop. Often referred to as the gateway to southern Albania, it is the capital of the District of Sarandë and supports a population of approximately 33,000. The Republic of Albania borders the Western Balkan states of Montenegro to the northwest, Kosovo to the northeast and Macedonia to the east, while Greece forms its southerly neighbour. Albania's original settlers are thought to be the most ancient race in southeastern Europe, descending from tribes of Aryan immigrants known as Illyrians, who arrived in the Balkan lands between two and three thousand years BC.

How To Get Ashore Via The Tenders.

Guests on morning shore excursions DO NOT need a tender ticket. Please meet in the Royal Court Theatre, starboard side, at the tour time indicated. Tender tickets will be required for those guests who are not booked on a shore excursion and will be available from 9.30am from the Queens Room. When you are ready to go ashore, please follow these procedures:

1. Collect a numbered tender ticket from the Entertainment Staff in the Queens Room, Deck 2, and take a seat until your number is called.
2. When your number is called you will be escorted to the tender embarkation area. Please hand your tender ticket to the member of staff on duty, and you will be directed to the tender.
3. Please have your guest identification key card ready for the security staff to scan before boarding the tender. Please listen for announcements over the Public Address System, as times are subject to change depending on local conditions. A continuous tender service will operate between the ship and the shore until the last tender leaves the shore at 4.30pm as Queen Elizabeth sails shortly after.

PLEASE NOTE: Tender tickets are NOT required for the return trip to the ship. Local port officials retain the authority to temporarily stop tenders in the port area dependent on local traffic and sea state conditions.

Safety In The Tenders.

Today we will be taking you ashore using the ship's tenders. For your own safety please read the tender safety notice at the head of the gangway and familiarise yourself with the contents of the emergency instructions notice posted in the cab of each tender. You are advised that you must not smoke whilst in the tenders and that, to avoid risk of injury, you must keep your hands and arms off the side of the tender as it comes alongside the ship or wharf. It is important that you follow the instructions given by crew members and that you remain seated whilst in the tenders. Do not get in or out of the tenders until instructed to do so by the ship's staff. For safety reasons, guests in wheelchairs cannot be carried onto tenders in ports where the ship is at anchor. You must have Personal Mobility and be able to walk down the steps into the tender and up steps pier side as you disembark from the tender. Please be advised in order to allow collapsible scooters and motorised wheelchairs to be taken ashore safely the equipment must be in its collapsible state before entering the queue for the tender. The collapsing and transferring in and out of the tender must be managed by the guest or travelling companion as crew are unable to assist, and no individual part must weigh more than 20kg. A limited number of wheelchairs are available on loan from the Purser's Office. We ask that you please keep this in mind when booking your excursions or making plans to go ashore in these ports. We apologise for any inconvenience caused but this is for the Safety and well being of our crew.
