In the port of Bridgetown, Barbados.

From the Navigator.

Queen Mary 2 approached her berth in Bridgetown's deepwater harbour this morning from the West and will spend the day alongside before slipping her lines and heading back to the North, passing to the East of the Leeward Islands. After clearing the underwater mount Banc Flandre off Guadeloupe, we will alter North West to approach English Harbour on the South Coast of Antigua.

Arrival Time: 7.00am
All Aboard Time: 9.30pm

Barbados is a medium sized island that is 21 miles long and 14 miles wide, located in the far south eastern corner of the Caribbean. It is the most easterly of the Caribbean islands, situated about 100 miles east of the Windward Islands chain. The climate is semi tropical with an average temperature of 80oF with only nominal seasonal variations. Barbados is cooled by the constant trade winds blowing from the ENE across the Atlantic toward the Caribbean. The direction of these winds is remarkably constant which have made Barbados easily reached by sail boats from Europe (downwind) but very difficult to reach from the other Caribbean islands (always lying upwind). This helps to explain why Barbados alone was not subject to repeated conflict between the Caribbean colonial powers and, once colonised by England, remained English until her recent independence. In fact, her name is actually derived from the Portuguese word, Los Barbudos, which appears in a document issued by King Ferdinand of Spain in 1511. The name means 'the bearded ones' which most believe to be a reference to the many bearded fig trees on the island.

Officer Profile:

Entertainment Director, Catherine Kennedy.

Catherine was always destined for a life on the open waves as her parents met while working aboard The Peninsular and Oriental Steam Navigational Company's SS. Canberra. She saw her elder brother join P&O Cruises in the Deck Department and couldn't wait for a life at sea. She started her own sea-going career at the age of 19 as one of the Youth Staff on P&O Cruises' Oceana. She continued in this role for the next three years on Oceana, Oriana and Azura, while also completing her BA Hons degree in Theatre and Performance from the University of Leeds. Upon graduation in 2013, Catherine made the move to the Entertainment Department, starting as an Entertainment Host on Oceana. She was delighted to move to Cunard in 2014 on board Queen Elizabeth and since then has worked on all three of the current Cunard Queens. In 2015, she was promoted to Assistant Entertainment Director and in 2017 first sailed as Entertainment Director on board Queen Elizabeth, where she had started her Cunard career. She is now thrilled to be Entertainment Director of the flagship of the Cunard fleet, RMS Queen Mary 2.

In her spare time, Catherine likes to indulge in her love of Musical Theatre by going to the theatre as much as possible. She enjoys travelling and always takes her backpack to a different corner of the globe whenever she is on leave. Although she has seen some incredible places, her firm favourite remains her beautiful home city of Winchester, where she can usually be found at home, curled up with a good book!
