

Daily Programme.

From the Navigator.

After letting go her lines yesterday evening, the Queen Elizabeth made her way out through Southampton water and into the Solent, where she disembarked the local pilot. A south-easterly heading was then set for joining the Dover Straits shipping lane which is famous for being one of the busiest in the world and separates the English Channel and the North Sea. This morning Queen Elizabeth exited the Dover Straits and will now start to make her way north, crossing into the North Sea, towards Norway.

How to logon to the ship's Wi-Fi.

- Connect to the ship's Wi-Fi network by selecting Cunard_Guest_WiFi, please then type 'login.com' into your internet browser.
- Follow the on-screen instructions, making sure the 'ID Card number' is the final four digits from your Voyage card (stateroom key).
- Keep your details safe by using a memorable username and password.
- Select your satellite internet package and check out.
- Switching off the ship's Wi-Fi, or turning off your device will not terminate your session and your minutes will run out. Simply type logout.com in your internet browser then press go or enter, when you want to disconnect. A summary of the amount of minutes you have used will be displayed. This confirms that you have successfully logged out.

For assistance, visit the Library on Decks 2 and 3, midships during the opening hours.

Internet connectivity.

Please be advised that on our way and during our voyage, we are likely to have intermittent internet connectivity due to the ship's location. We apologise for the inconvenience and thank you for your understanding.

Jogging.
