Port Highlights

This morning, Queen Victoria will make her inbound approach to Piraeus harbour from the south. Having embarked our local pilot at 6.00am, we will pass between the narrow breakwaters and manoeuvre alongside our berth for the day. This evening, at around 9.00pm Queen Victoria will let go of her lines and begin the 130 nautical mile overnight sea passage to Santorini, ending the day sailing on a south-easterly heading in the Myrtoan Sea.

During the period of antiquity, the port city of Piraeus played a crucial role in the development of Athens as a dominant force in the Mediterranean world. Piraeus was originally a small town located on the Saronic Gulf, but it grew rapidly in the 5th century BCE due to its strategic location and natural harbor
